Census Organizer

About PCUN and #WeCountOregon:

PCUN's mission is to empower farmworkers and Latinx working families through community building, increasing representation in elections and systems change at the state and national level.

#WeCountOregon is a community-led, coordinated statewide campaign focused on engaging Oregon's hard-to-count communities: black and indigenous people of color, immigrants, rural people, children under five years old and renters. #WeCountOregon is working to ensure that the Census is equitable, fair, and just and that every Oregonian is counted in the 2020 US Census.

POSITION OVERVIEW

We're looking for motivated, passionate and friendly people who are interested in an entry-level field organizer position to ensure that farmworkers, immigrant families, and Latinx community members get counted in the 2020 census. Why? Because there was a severe undercount of our communities ten years ago, and that means our state, our cities, and our counties do not get the resources they need to serve our community. We can change this by going out and talking to our neighbors about the importance of being counted in the census. A Census Organizer will be tasked with committing community members to fill out the Census.
